

*To the young Veteran,
seeking an escape,
standing before a gun case,
tortured from not getting the care, ~ promised ~
by a country that betrayed him in Toto.*

“Young man, ‘god’ works through people. The reason is that people listen to nothing else,” said a Messenger appearing before him; then she vanished.

Joan of Arc ^{3rd}

To Joan of Arc said the King, “Why do the voices come to you and not to me, I am the King! Not YOU!” Joan said, “They do come but you don't hear them. You do not hear them. You have not sat in the evening field listening for them; when the Tower Bell rings, you cross yourself and have done with it; but, if you pray from your heart and listen for the thrilling of the bells after they stop ringing, then you would hear the voices as well as do I...”

Joan of Arc. Circa 1431.

Joan’s final confession before the king during persecution, torture, and murder as a demonic by authorities of ‘the church-state.’ Only a girl of 19, she burned at the stake for heresy, blasphemy, and demonic possession.

Nothing much about humanity has changed since medieval dark ages.
